ITALIAN BALM

STATEMENT

Campana Corporation, a corporation duly organized and existing by virtue of the laws of the State of Delaware, located and doing business at Campana Building, Batavia, Illinois, has adopted and is using the trade-mark shown in the accompanying drawing, for LOTIONS FOR THE SKIN, in Class No. 51, Cosmetics and toilet preparations, and presents herewith five specimens showing the trade-mark as actually used in connection with such goods, the trade-mark being applied by printing or lithographing the same on the containers or on labels that are fastened to the containers and requests that the same be registered in the United States Patent Office on the Principal Register in accordance with the act of July 5, 1946, and particularly under sec. 2(f) thereof, claim of distinctiveness being based on substantially exclusive and continuous use thereof by the applicant for the period of five years next preceding the filing of this application, in commerce which may be lawfully regulated by the Congress. The trade-mark was first used in 1895, and first used in commerce which may lawfully be regulated by the Congress, viz., commerce between the United States and Canada in 1895. Such first use was by a Canadian predecessor.

The trade-mark consists merely in the expression Italian Balm. Applicant owns the following Registrations: Nos. 176,347, 234,573, 252,351, 297,174, 297,175, 304,068, 318,135, 319,293, 376,825, 376,826, 376,827, 376,828, and 376,829.

Applicant's claim of right to exclusive use is subject to the exception that the mark may be legitimately used in commerce subject to lawful regulation by the Congress, by the following related company whose use of the mark inures to the benefit of the applicant, such related company controlling the applicant with respect to the nature and quality of the goods in connection with which the mark is used by stock ownership Campana Sales Company, Delaware corporation, of Batavia, Illinois.
